

The reference and the baseline at far field (left) and near field (right)

One held-out view per scene, seed 0, at two crops. The far field is where the medium term dominates and the near field where geometry does. Peak signal-to-noise ratio is given for the view shown, not the scene mean.